Five Convenient Workshops to Reach All Communities

The county will host a series of workshops to affirm community values and gather new ideas about the future. The county has hired RPI Consulting of Durango to facilitate this important process. These events will include group discussion and key pad polling in which each participant responds anonymously to questions on the screen using a response card. Group results are calculated real-time, prompting lively group discussions.

Topics will include:

- Ideas for the future and lessons learned from all who attend
- Preservation: natural, cultural, historic, scenic, recreation access and water
- Land use and community character
- Economic sustainability
- Core infrastructure and public services
- Partnerships and coordination
- Water supply and water quality
