

Weather from 05/05/13 to 05/19/13 at the Ranch

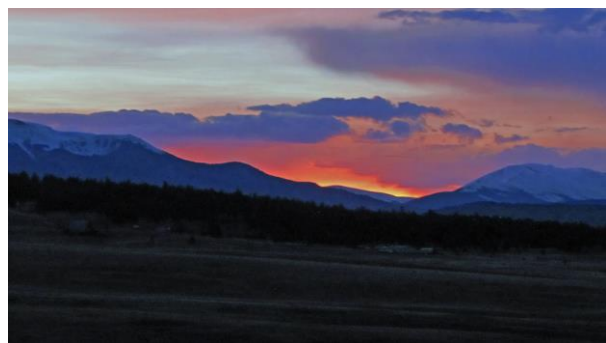

We have finally begun to get some legitimate spring weather. The lows have been in the 30s and the highs in the 50s for the most part. There has been a little precipitation (always welcome), but more sunshine and mild winds.

Here are pictures from 05/10 in the morning and sunset on the 14th to give you a feel for the weather the last couple weeks here on the Ranch.
