

It looks like spring may actually have begun. The wind is pretty steady and the temperatures are looking pretty spring like also. Not much snow left, except in the wooded areas on the north slopes.

Here is a picture of a visitor we had on the morning of March 19, 2013. If that isn't a sign of spring, I don't know what is. :-)

